

About OTC Trading

At BitGain Exchange, for large trades, we provide OTC trading for BTC with BGC and JOB.

■ What is OTC Trading

OTC trading is a service for large investors. It is common for there to be limits on trading amounts for cryptocurrency trading. However, if the buyer and seller agree on OTC, trader will be able to trade without limitations making OTC trading a beneficial method for large investors.

■ Benefits

1) Large transactions will not be affected by the market. Crypto-currency has a tendency to be volatile. When there is a trend on buying, the value may appreciate. When there is a trend of selling, prices tend to depreciate. So, there is a possibility to cause confusion within the market resulting from a large trade. However, because OTC trading does not have an intermediary, traders will not be affected by market conditions.

2) Can close a trade with 1 order.

With conventional trading methods, traders are charged with a fee for every transaction. With large investments, traders will have to pay those fees numerous times. However, with OTC trading, traders can save on total fees.
